WINWARE, INC AWARDED PATENT FOR OBJECT TRACKING IN AN ENCLOSURE

Marietta, GA – WinWare, Inc, the global leader in providing solutions for managing indirect material, was awarded U.S. Patent number 7,753,272 on July 13, 2010. The patent reinforces the company's commitment to innovation and validates the RFID technology used in the CribMaster inventory management system to accurately manage tooling, spare parts, or any indirect material in any RFID environment.

"We are pleased by this recognition from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office for object tracking in an enclosure, states Larry Harper, WinWare president. WinWare has invested a great deal of time and effort in developing a solution using RFID to accurately track tools and small assets. We have been and continue to be dedicated to driving innovation in the inventory management arena. This patent, as well as other awards from distinguished organizations, represent the continued recognition of our efforts and is gratefully received."
